

Quest News

February 2010

Highlights of our month:

Grade 3: Grade 3 students continue to "Create A Culture" with their culture groups in class. They have learned about economies, leadership, and other cultural traditions. Students were assigned culture projects to be completed at home that are due the first week of March.

Grade 4: Quest students are studying endangered animal maps and researching endangered animals using technology. They are working on an in class endangered animal project and will be assigned a home project. Please check your child's folder for an upcoming project.

Grade 5:
The fifth grade Quest students completed their architecture unit. The skyscrapers look great! Currently, students are learning about crime and law. We are viewing the various aspects of crime scene investigation including tools, procedures, and occupations in the field. We are looking forward to our trip in March to the Camden County Courthouse! Permission slips and money are due 2-26-10.

Sincerely,
Tina Maisch
