The African American Culture Club would like to extend its deepest gratitude to the staff members who supported the students in their presentation of the Divine Nine and the significance that Greek life plays not only at HBCUs, but colleges and universities across the country. The Divine Nine consists of five fraternities and four sororities founded mainly at historically Black institutions with the purpose of promoting and uplifting Black culture. Their primary focus at the time of creation was to ensure that race did not impact student attendance, involvement and retention on college campuses. Eventually the organizations became more social in function with added determination in their roles to uplift their community. Thank you to the following individuals for your representation of the Divine Nine and uplifting of our school community.

Bringing Hollywood to NJ

Mr. Norman Ingram, WTHS TV Production teacher and the Student and Internship Coordinator for the South Jersey Film Office Cooperative (SJFOC), is proud to share that students at Winslow Township HS will in the future have the opportunity to gain experience working with a new state-wide initiative to bring Hollywood to New Jersey. The SJFOC is collaborating with local artists, theaters and other organizations to entice movie producers to use South Jersey as a set location. As such, SJFOC is planning on expanding their student training and workforce readiness program for TV and Film to high school students and Winslow has been recommended to spear head the development program, of course with the BOE and Principal approval. If approved, the initiative would commence in the 2022-23 school year. Also, Camden County Commissioner Louis Cappelli Jr. gave Winslow's TV Production, Web Development, Filming and Photography programs a major shout out. Unfortunately, the plaudits did not make the final cut of the evening news broadcast. For a detailed view of the event and the impact of this venture on South Jersey, please review the link below. <https://philadelphia.cbslocal.com/2022/04/04/south-jersey-film-office-cooperative-hill-theater/>

Student Book Club

Mrs. Reilly, WTHS's new librarian, is proud to announce the start of a student book club as of March 15, 2022. The book club will meet after school every other Tuesday to chat about what students' have read. The goal of the book club is to read titles that showcase various life experiences relevant to today's society and have fun while discussing each story. Interested students can stop by the library for more details or contact Ms. Reilly — at reillyem@winslow-schools.com

Poetry Night

Congratulations to the winners of Leo Club's Annual Poetry Contest: 1st Place -Saraih Reaves ("The Cynic"), 2nd Place- Sky Pinkett ("The Bride") and 3rd Place-Axel Martinez ("NJ Immigrant Dream"). As in the past, this event was magical with students, alumni, parents and staff sharing their love of the written word mixed in with light refreshments and special guests. Special thanks go to the judges for the night -Ms. Mack, Mrs. Zoccola and Mr. Pino- who had very tough decisions to make, as the top ten poets wrangled for the top three spots. A special thanks also goes out to all those who contributed in various ways to bring this night to fruition. Here is the poem which took first place that night.

"The Cynic" by: Saraih Reaves

I sit on the park bench on an autumn morning,
Watching lovers pass by as I think to myself,
these fools who are blissfully unaware of upcoming mourning,
And the heartache in store for themselves.

They think that they will be together forever,
Get married and maybe produce offspring,
But my sight is keen and their chances of lasting are never,
The two will probably not last the spring.

Then they will ponder what happened,
Say "was I too clingy, should I have tried harder to be everything they liked?"
Trying to figure out what went wrong will leave you maddened,
Or maybe it was you in general who was not their type.

I was the hopeless romantic, believing in love's awes, and woes,
Sadly, my eyes have been opened now, regarding past lovers as foes.

Student "Employee of the Month"

WTHS FBLA congratulates Olanrewaju "Lanre" John who was recognized as the school-store January Employee of the Month for his amazing customer service and attentiveness towards those in need of assistance. As always, it is an equal opportunity business which welcomes its customers with positive and professional service!
